

Domestic deliveries and consumption of selected consumer goods per capita in 2017

31.08.2018

 3.8%

A growth y/y in domestic deliveries of meat

In 2017, domestic meat deliveries¹ (including pork, beef, veal and poultry meat) increased by 3.8% compared to the previous year and amounted to PLN 4,164 thousand tons.

In 2017, as in the previous year, the increase in domestic deliveries y/y of poultry meat was much higher than meat from slaughter animals

The domestic market supply of selected food product

In 2017, in comparison with previous year, was recorded a growth in domestic deliveries of the majority of surveyed foodstuffs.

The deliveries of chocolate products; fruit jams; coffee; beef and veal meat; frozen fruit and nuts; compotes and pasteurized fruits; poultry meat; sugar and grape wine were significant higher than the year before.

The biggest drop in domestic deliveries compared to 2016 was noted, among others, for the following foodstuffs: candies (excluding chocolate); milk and cream in solid form; margarine and spreads (excluding liquid margarine); pure vodka and rye flour.

In 2017 deliveries of the majority of surveyed foodstuffs were higher than in 2016

*Data was changed than previously published.

³ Data about consumption level was compiled using balance method: production enlarged by import, reduced by export, decreases and losses of agricultural products at producers' and in turnover including changes of stocks level. Besides, production of raw materials is diminished by their usage for production purposes. Consumption per capita is based on a number of population data for 30 June.

⁴ Data concerns farming years i.e. period from 1 VII of the previous year to 30 VI of the given year.

⁵ Provisional data.

In 2017 consumption per capita of the majority of surveyed foodstuffs was lower than in previous year. In recent years consumption of grain processed products and potatoes has been steadily declining.
