

Terms used in official statistics

Decrements of dwelling stocks

Definition:

Physical decrements specified based on reports on demolition of buildings, decisions on demolition enforcement, issued permits to change the purpose of a residential building or a dwelling into purposes other than residential, decisions on enforcement of demolition of buildings not used, damaged or not finished, unfit for renovation, reconstruction or finishing.

The main causes of decrements of dwelling stock include: a bad technical condition, seizure of land for investments, natural disasters, a change of destination and others.

Contact person on methodology:

Urząd Statystyczny w Lublinie

e-mail: sekretariatUSlub@stat.gov.pl