

Terms used in official statistics

Marketplace prices

Definition:

Prices received for the sale of products produced in own private farms in transactions between farmers and between farmers and non-agricultural population. The average monthly prices for the country are calculated as arithmetical mean of all recordings at the national level, and the average monthly prices for the voivodship are calculated as arithmetical mean of all recordings at the voivodship level, while the average annual prices are calculated as arithmetical mean from monthly prices.

Contact person on methodology:

GUS – Departament Handlu i Usług

e-mail: Sekretariat-HU@stat.gov.pl