

Terms used in official statistics

Slash

Definition:

Logs produced of wood run of the smaller diameter of up to 5 cm (under bark) or up to 7 cm (over bark), measured in groups or in piles. Depending on the quality, slash (also called logging) is divided into two groups:

- a) M1 - slash for industrial uses,
- b) M2 - slash for fuel.

High-level terms

- Wood assortment

Low-level terms:

- Fuelwood

Contact person on methodology:

Urząd Statystyczny w Białymstoku

e-mail: SekretariatUSBST@stat.gov.pl