Statistics Poland

Terms used in official statistics

Renewable energy source

Definition:
A source using in transformation process energy of wind, solar radiation, geothermal, waves, sea currents and tides, river's falls as well as energy produced from biomass, landfill biogas and biogas produced in the processes of discharge or sewage treatment or decomposition of plant and animal remains.

Contact person on methodology:
Urząd Statystyczny w Rzeszowie
e-mail: sekretariatusrze@stat.gov.pl