

Terms used in official statistics

The average monthly value of family benefits

Definition:

The average monthly value of family benefits equals the expenses for family benefits (family allowances, supplements to family allowances, care benefits, care allowances, special care allowances and other benefits paid by local government) in a given reporting period divided by the number of months in a given period and by the average value of those benefits.

The average monthly value of family benefits equals the expenses for family benefits (family allowances, supplements to family allowances, care benefits, care allowances, special care allowances and other benefits paid by local government) falling on average per month per beneficiary.

Contact person on methodology:

Urząd Statystyczny w Krakowie

e-mail: SekretariatUSKRK@stat.gov.pl