Active routes (bus, trains, trolley-buses)

Definition:
Segments of streets (squares) in cities, roads outside administrative boundaries of cities, market places not taking place at streets (roads), where urban transport (buses, trams, trolley buses) is available, regardless of the fact whether the urban transport traffic is one-way or two-way.

Transportation routes are counted separately for every urban transport vehicles. The total length of routes is a sum of individual routes of urban transport vehicles.
